PROFILE

Three years in search, agency side and in house, now running growth end to end. My work is audits, crawl and indexing, schema markup, site architecture, redirects and Core Web Vitals, across WordPress, Magento, Shopify and WooCommerce, plus Google Ads and the tracking that tells you whether any of it worked. I implement rather than hand over recommendations, and I build the tooling in Python and Node when an off the shelf product will not do the job: a CRM, a newsletter platform, and the automation around both.

EXPERIENCE

Performance Growth Marketer · Loopin · June 2026 to present

- Replatformed a Dutch client's store onto Shopify on the same domain: 373 products and 835 variants migrated, with 739 redirects mapped programmatically from the old URL structure so search positions survived the move.
- Built and validated 822 Google Merchant Center offers by hand with zero errors, after the platform's own integration could not produce a working feed.
- Rebuilt conversion tracking server side after the pixel had logged thousands of add-to-carts and no purchases; the account then measured a 4.3% conversion rate across all campaigns.
- Built a custom CRM in Django after the client was locked out of their previous system: 22 data models, ten years of history migrated as a searchable archive, and 11,756 lines of tests. Automations inside it cover bookkeeping entries into the accounting system, payment links generated and reconciled, delivery paperwork, order-status warnings and WhatsApp order updates.
- Built and run a standalone newsletter and lifecycle email platform: campaign flows, discount codes, deliverability and revenue attribution, deployed with its own mail server.
- Worked through a 34-point national e-commerce certification review covering shipping, returns, contact details and policy pages, fixed and verified live.
- Technical support across the online estate, from site and tracking faults to the internal systems the team works in daily.

- Designed and generated automated schema setups that pull the right data per page type, rather than hand-writing markup page by page.
- Led the off-page team: planned link-building work and reviewed quality.
- Oversaw 2 new website builds, coordinating developers, writers and designers, and set the URL structure, sitemaps, indexing rules and internal linking before launch.
- Built content clusters and internal linking plans to improve topical coverage.
- Fixed crawl, index and duplication issues, and reported on rankings, traffic and site health.
